Academia must find the perfect balance between yesterday's experience and tomorrow's tech savviness

Miraj D Shah, Bhawanipur Education Society

How have you modified your academic curriculums to make them more relevant to the present-day industry demographics?

>> The Bhawanipur Education Society College (BESC) has always been one of the most technologically advanced campuses in this part of the world. As an early adopter, it not only boasts of electronic classrooms and wi-fi connectivity but has been one of the earliest propagators of computer aided pedagogy. Naturally, when the pandemic induced lockdown forced academia to move into a digitised system of instruction, the BESC was at a huge advantage.

However, instead of resting on its laurels, the BESC further fine-tuned its operations - the average duration of classes was reworked to realistically address the issue of attention spans and to factor in the time saved due to the electronic system of taking attendance. Faculty members were encouraged to create video summaries of their talks which were made available to students upfront, which led to more student-faculty interactions and have been seen to be more conducive to the students getting a better grasp of the topics being discussed. As the recorded instructions are made freely accessible online, the students have been freed from not only the physical confines of their classrooms, but also of time constraints which is a great leveller as individual students can now approach the course materials at the pace that best suits them, giving them a fair opportunity to work towards excellence.

The key will be a balance - between yesterday's experience and tomorrow's tech savviness.

Recorded talks by industry and domain experts too are being used as teaching aids to further bolster the process. Technology is also being freely accessed to facilitate better and seamless interaction between the students and the members of the faculty, who are among the best in their class. A comprehensive study bank is creating itself as more inputs are added on a daily basis and academic circles are excited enough to suggest the making of this invaluable knowledge base available for the larger student community. The rigorous and many claim, fool-proof instruction system that the BESC had created to ensure the enviable academic track record chalked by successive batches is now digital, with all its attendant benefits.

What are some of the key trends, innovations, and developments unfolding in the Indian education sector, to keep an eye out for over the next half a decade?

>> Now is the new normal. A more digital enabled, internet aided system of pedagogy will become the norm. Flexibility, leading to ease-of-use, will be the new driver and traditional class-room confinement is set to reduce, with interactivity leading to better grasping of subject matters by students. The challenge will not only be to make the transition into this technology enriched space, but also to expose students with more real-life situations to further aid the process. The key will be a balance - between yesterday's experience and tomorrow's tech savviness. At BESC we already have a head start in reimagining education as it were, suffice to say, the future will only see us integrate the innovations that we have begun.

Interactive Feedback Forum on the Online Teaching-Learning Experience (24th July 2020)

On Friday, 24th July, 2020, an interactive feedback forum was arranged at 11 AM, for the students and faculty members of the Department of English, The Bhawanipur Education Society College on the online teaching-learning experience. It was attended by the Teacher-in-Charge, Dr. Suchandra Chakravarty, the Vice-Principal, Prof. Debjani Ganguly, the teachers of the English department, and 15 student representatives from the undergraduate and postgraduate levels who volunteered to be a part of this discussion forum.

The state-wide lockdown on account of the COVID-19 pandemic began in the middle of March, also marking the shift of all classroom interaction to the online platform. Google Classroom and Google Meet were used to communicate with the students and upload materials.

After classes for the session were over, a survey was conducted among the UG and PG students of the via Google forms to gather feedback on the online teaching-learning experience. 346 students (about 50% of the students) of the department filled up the feedback form.

The two-hour session was divided into three sections:

- A presentation of the result analysis of the feedback form filled up by the students of the departments, along with the questions that had received definitive responses,
- A moderated discussion of the topics under observation by the student representatives,

Methods of Teaching preferred by Students: Graphical

- An interaction between the faculty and students regarding some of the topics and other related queries.

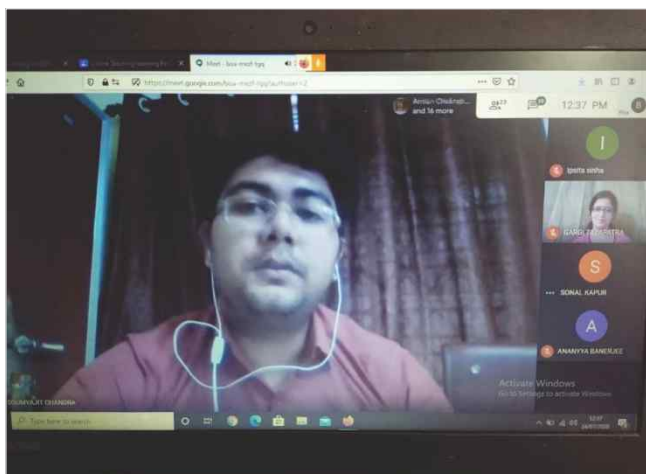

The topics included concerns over:

- Content uploaded/shared: topic-based notes, follow-up of reference links and materials by the students, browsing online resources for reference material, preference regarding what kind of reference material/link students find useful and/or interesting, subjective interest of the students, exam-oriented learning tendencies.
- Optimization of the online teaching-learning process: reading texts, students using uploaded material to prepare for Google Meet classes, assignments and continuous internal assessments.
- Advantages and disadvantages of the online teaching-learning platforms, both technological and non-technological: internet issues, access issues, attendance for Google Meet classes, maintaining the 'classroom' ambience, 'home' as the sole space of learning, and maintaining a disciplined schedule.

Dr. Souraja Tagore during the Interactive Session

The presentation by the students was followed by an interactive session during which the faculty put forward their own perspectives regarding the topics under discussion, and also tried to resolve some of the queries put forward by the students, such as matters of attendance for Google Meet classes, reading texts, maneuvering reference material, accessing uploaded material and external references, handling technical issues, among others.

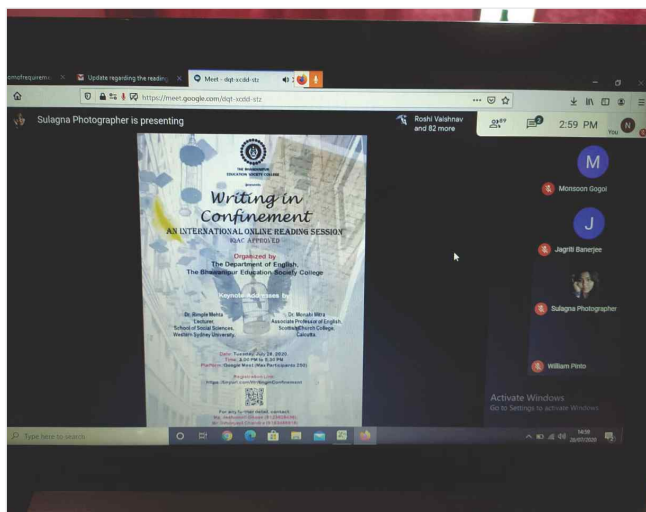

Mr. Soumyajit Chandra during the Interactive Session

The session was enriching for both the students and teachers. The insights gathered from it would certainly prove helpful going forward, and ensure a smoother online teaching-learning experience.

Writing in Confinement: An International Online Reading Session (28th July 2020)

On 28th July 2020, an international online reading session titled 'Writing in Confinement' (in collaboration with IQAC) was organized by the English department of The Bhawanipur Education Society College. The event was open to all the faculty members and students of the college, along with research scholars, activists, creative writers and academicians from all over the world. The session was organized on Google Meet. More than 90 people were present at the event.

The aim of this international reading session was to understand the subtleties associated with creativity in a state of confinement. It was decided that in this event, the participants would be reading out excerpts from letters, diaries, novels and poems composed during various states of confinement, namely during illness, in prisons or asylums, and during times of political and racial persecution.

The reading session commenced with the inaugural address of Dr. Suchandra Chakravarty, Teacher-in-Charge of The Bhawanipur Education Society College. The first session of the day consisted of two keynote addresses. The first keynote address was delivered by Dr. Rimple Mehta, Lecturer, School of Social Sciences, Western Sydney University, who joined the online event from Sydney. In her talk titled Confinement and Resistance, Dr. Mehta read out excerpts from letters written by Bangladeshi women in Correctional Homes in Kolkata, India.

The second keynote address was made by Dr. Monabi Mitra, Associate Professor of English, Scottish Church College Calcutta. In her remarkable talk titled Writing in Confinement: A Writer's Point of View, Dr. Mitra explored the question whether confinement acts as a deterrent to an author. The two keynote addresses were followed by a brief interactive session where members of the audience shared their questions and observations with the two keynote speakers.

After this, there was a round of presentations made by the final year postgraduate students of the English Department of The Bhawanipur Education Society College. Priya Chakraborty, PG II English student of The Bhawanipur Education Society College made the first presentation titled "Feet, what do I need you for when I have wings to fly?": Kahlo, A Genius in Seclusion. Through an audio-visual presentation of the iconic self-portraits of Frida Kahlo, Priya showed how the visual tropes of confinement traditionally imposed on women may also be successfully extended to nature and the animal kingdom. The second speaker was Rashmi Baskey, PG II English student of The Bhawanipur Education Society College. Her talk was titled The Yellow Immuration: Charlotte Perkins Gilman and the Female Literary Imagination. Through several excerpts from the celebrated short story The Yellow Wallpaper, Rashmi showed how a male protector figure may seem tyrannical and 'confining' to the female imagination, and how the latter may find unconventional ways of dealing with the former. Chayanika Bandyopadhyay, PG II English student of The Bhawanipur Education Society College, whose talk was titled "My drowsy brain such glimpses steep/ And all my singing ends in sleep": Sukumar Ray's Poetical Departure, brought out the last creative spurts of a brain weighed down by fever, but one which has made peace with fate nonetheless, through the recitation of one of the last poems of Sukumar Ray.

Subsequently, English faculty members from both the host college and otherwise participated in the last session of the day. The round was opened by Mr. Sambuddha Ghosh, Assistant Professor of English at Krishnanagar Govt. College and he delivered a talk titled Hölderlin and the Poetry of Confinement. Mr. Ghosh made a presentation on the letters and poems written by the German Romantic poet, Friedrich Hölderlin while confined in a clinic due to his schizophrenic tendencies.

The second speaker was Dr. Sharmila Purkayastha, Associate Professor, Department of English, Miranda House, University of Delhi. Joining from Delhi, Dr. Purkayastha delivered a talk titled Barred Writings: A British School Teacher's Experience as a Naxalite Prisoner. The audience learnt of the uncertain lives of Naxal prisoners, and how confinement is a more perpetual state of being for them compared to others.

The next speaker was Dr. Souraja Tagore, Whole Time Lecturer of English at The Bhawanipur Education Society College. Dr. Tagore made a riveting presentation titled "I am the one who dies when he is not loved...I am Nijinsky": Readings from the Diary of Vaslav Nijinsky. This presentation showed the deep existential dilemma of a renowned ballet dancer who fell prey to his own sensitivity, and suffered from states of mental aberration for long periods of his life.

The last speaker for the day was Dr. Gargi Talapatra, Assistant Professor of English at The Bhawanipur Education Society College. Her talk was titled 'Delusion of Reprieve': Hope in the Saga of Man's Search for Meaning. Dr. Talapatra spoke memorably on the Holocaust, and how people find novel means for survival when confronted with insurmountable threats to life.

The last session of the day was followed by a brief round of interaction where the members of the audience shared their questions and observations with the speakers. Finally, Mr. Soumyajit Chandra, one of the coordinators for the event, delivered the vote of thanks. Ms. Jashomati Ghose, Assistant Professor of English at The Bhawanipur Education Society College co-hosted the event with him. Both the interactive sessions were ably managed by Mr. Gaurav Singh, their colleague.

Harry Potter turns 40! (30th July 2020)

On 30th July, 2020, The Department of English of The Bhawanipur Education Society College organized a webinar with an uncommon theme—the celebration of the 40th birth anniversary of Harry Potter.

The coordinators for the event were Ms. Sonal Kapur, Ms. Neetisha Jha, Ms. Srimoyee Roy, Ms. Soumyosree Banerjee and Mr. Soumyajit Chandra.

A Recapitulation of Harry Potter

The event was opened by Ms. Neetisha Jha who delivered an inaugural address. This was followed by a session of recapitulation where the trailers of the eight Harry Potter films were screened in succession. After this, there were several segments where students, graduate, postgraduate and even alumni, paid their tribute to this well-beloved fictional character through music, art, book reading and even fan fiction reading.

Characters in The Interlude: The Jinxed Vacancy, enacted by Faculty Members of the Department of English

A theme-based cosplay round was also organized where both graduate and postgraduate students dressed up as their favourite characters from the Harry Potter series. These segments were ably moderated by Ms. Sonal Kapur and Ms. Srimoyee Roy.

The interlude was provided by a skit titled 'The Jinxed Vacancy' which had been composed and enacted by the five coordinators of the event. This was completely a surprise event, and the students were amazed to see their professors dressed up as teachers of magic from Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizardry.

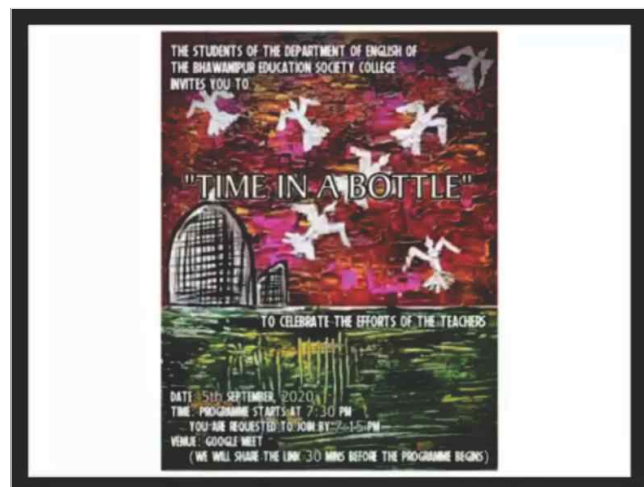

This was followed by a quiz contest moderated by Mr. Soumyajit Chandra, which led up to a final round of end credits—beautifully prepared with appropriate graphics and background music by the postgraduate students of the department.

Members of the audience repeatedly pointed out that this had been an event with a difference, and that more online events with similar innovative themes would be undoubtedly welcome.

Teachers' Day Celebration (5th September 2020)

The students of the Department of English, The Bhawanipur Education Society College organized an online Teachers' Day Celebration on 5th September, 2020. The event was coordinated by the postgraduate students of the Department. Apart from the faculty members of the Department of English, the students had also invited their guest-lecturers and ex-professors.

The event began with a segment of performances by both the undergraduate and postgraduate students of the Department, where they paid tribute to their teachers through music, dance and poetry.

Students presented an online skit, titled 'The Sheet Monger' by means of which they portrayed the various humorous experiences they had had at the time of examinations.

The teachers were surprised to no small extent to note that the students had introduced a segment titled 'Confessions'. Several students, directly and anonymously, shared stories of individual experiences when they had benefitted from the guidance, friendship and support of the faculty members of the department.

Subsequently, a group of alumni of the Department presented a skit titled 'Blast from the Pass-outs' where

Life beyond Life: A Tribute to Rabindranath Tagore on his 160th Birth Anniversary (26th May 2021)

On 26th May, 2021, the Department of English of The Bhawanipur Education Society College organized Life beyond Life: A Tribute to Rabindranath Tagore to commemorate his 160th birth anniversary. In light of the unprecedented number of deaths as a consequence of the ongoing second wave of the Covid-19 pandemic, the department had decided to organize a cultural tribute to Tagore which would be relevant to the dark times we live in. It was the department's intention to be in solidarity with everyone in the world who had lost loved ones, and were struggling to survive. Since Tagore's literary works find resonance with perhaps the entire gamut of human emotions, this event would be an appropriate means to the end mentioned above.

The inaugural address was delivered by Dr. Suchandra Chakravarty. This was followed by two segments where students paid their tribute to Tagore through music, dance and recitation, all in keeping with the themes of the joys and pains of human existence, life, death and the hope for new life.

An entire presentation was devoted to various works of art prepared by graduate and postgraduate students of the department. The event drew to an end with a skit by Tagore which was intended for comic relief. It was enacted by PG semester II and UG semester VI students. A few alumni of the department had participated in the event as well.

The event was moderated by Mr. Soumyajit Chandra. Through its celebration of Tagore, the event underscored the idea of human bonds, and brought a refreshing light of hope and solace.

HERITAGE SOCIETY

The major objective of 'The Heritage Society' is to create awareness amongst the students about the built heritage in their city and to rediscover it. Every year, the Society holds a number of walks or surveys in order to make students learn the art of documentation and discovery of Kolkata's rich cultural heritage. But the Covid-19 pandemic created a challenge for continuing our work. In 2019 we had begun a documentation of the historical and heritage sites of Bhawanipur which got halted because of the pandemic in 2020. However we continued with the chapter writing in 2020 in order to complete the work. We utilized the lockdown to complete our work and we are happy to say that we are in the final stages of the book which would be published soon in 2021. Our students have also been involved in international programmes on Heritage Awareness which has improved their writing, research and perception skills.

DEPARTMENT OF GEOGRAPHY

WEBINAR:

Subsistence of the 'Others' (23rd September 2020)

The Department of Geography of The Bhawanipur Education Society College, Kolkata, organised a Webinar on 23rd September, 2020, on Google Meet platform. The theme of the webinar was 'Subsistence of the 'Others''. The resource persons for the webinar were Dr. Jenia Mukherjee and Prof Malay Mukhopadhyay. Dr. Jenia Mukherjee is the Assistant Professor of the Department of Humanities and Social Sciences, IIT Kharagpur. Dr. Mukherjee has worked extensively on Environmental history, Political Ecology, Development Studies and Urban Studies both nationally and internationally. Dr. Malay Mukhopadhyay is the Professor and Former Head, Department of Geography, Visva-Bharati University, Santiniketan. Dr. Mukhopadhyay has passionately worked on rivers for past several years and spent days with tribal communities namely, Onge, Kani, Santal and Apatani. Apart from delivering lectures both nationally and internationally, he also has taken out time to write some books on subject-oriented topics, short stories, poems and novels.

The lectures delved into the livelihood generation facets of the marginalized and tribal commons within the sphere of globalization and environmental degradation in India. Through the lecture series, an appraisal was made on the wellbeing and subsistence-related endeavours of the traditional communities within the neo-liberal processes. Geographically speaking, globalization has led to the melting of global boundaries. The homogeneity created has caused an existential crisis for these marginalised groups. They not only face economic challenges but have been facing a loss of intangible cultural heritage. Environmental changes, loss of habitat has also led to a loss of economic survival for several indigenous communities.

Dr. Jenia Mukherjee spoke on the topic 'From nature, to nature: ecosystem services and community well being in rural West Bengal' speaking extensively about a number of case studies from peri-urban and rural West Bengal on how marginalized communities have been coping up with the changes in time especially with globalization and degradation of the environment.

Dr. Malay Mukhopadhyay spoke on the topic the topic 'Development Strategies vis-a-vis Human Rights: Response of a tiny tribal community of Andaman Islands, India' where he spoke of his extensive field experience with the Onge tribal community and how external influence is changing them. He left us pondering as to the future of this tribal community.

The lecture was attended by 141 persons and was moderated by Ms. Raktima Ghosh and Dr. Debika Banerji from the Geography Department, The Bhawanipur Education Society College. The welcome address was given by the IQAC coordinator, Mr Tathagata Sen. The total number of external students were 50 along with a number of research scholars from various Universities and around 45 faculties teaching in various Colleges and Universities. The total number of internal students was 28 and around 16 teachers from the college attended the seminar. ACTIVITY UNDERTAKEN BY STUDENTS OUTSIDE THE SYLLABUS

Yoga for Wellbeing (22nd June 2021)

On 22nd June 2021, at 1.30 P.M (IST) the International Yoga Day was observed by the students of Semester II, Department of Education, The Bhawanipur Education Society College. The digital platform for the program was Google Meet. The day was celebrated with great fervor and enthusiasm. The entire program was crafted under the initiative of Ayushi Bhattacharya (English Department); Aiman Hashim (English Department); Sanjana Barai (Sociology Department). This year the theme was “Yoga for Wellbeing”. The health and fitness program commenced with the understanding of the initiation of the International Yoga Day through the efforts of our Honorable Prime Minister Narendra Modi followed by a talk on yoga and its impact on mental health during this pandemic. The day was observed upholding our spiritual journey towards a better self. To create an awareness and reinforcement drive a short program was therefore organized wherein it was important to understand the essence of “Yog” and “Yoga” not just for physical health but also for mental health because the COVID- 19 wave has exacerbated existing mental health inequalities. The knowledge of Yoga during these tough times provided a sense of peace and calmness and its contribution during the lockdown cannot be dwarfed. Yoga and asanas have therefore taken a center stage during this pandemic as stress relievers. Food is also an essential part of health, the kind of meal taken and the Sattvic diet no doubt forms an integral part of Yoga. It was followed by a small Yoga awareness song glorifying the ideals of Yoga and its essence in its birth place India and finally the program was concluded by the melodious voice of Dr. Rekha Nariwal, Head, Department of Education, The Bhawanipur Education Society College, who with her Ghazal touched our souls and finally concluding remarks was given by Ms. Madhuja Biswas, Lecturer, Department of Education, The Bhawanipur Education Society College.

In this digital era when things are more on online mode and fast paced, let us give ourselves some time and take a step towards better health, a better life and ultimately a better mind. A holistic approach to health and well-being is to be sought in our educational institutions as well. Yoga is therefore not just doing physical exercises but inculcating a sense of oneness with the world and the nature. It is quintessential therefore to maintain our equilibrium and head towards acquiring better life skills by making Yoga an integral part of our lives.

Mentoring in B.Com (Morning)

The B.COM Morning section of The Bhawanipur Education Society College has taken a novel initiative in the field of student guidance and support. We have started with “MENTORING” in our department for all are students of SEMESTER II, SEMESTER IV and SEMESTER VI.

This program started from the month of May 2021, where WhatsApp groups were made for all the semesters. Each section has been assigned 2 teachers as their mentors with 120 students. Each group has our Dean Prof. Dilip Shah and our coordinator Prof. Minakshi Chaturvedi as the admin, thus she can monitor the activities in each group. We have 17 mentoring classes with 34 teachers.

The mentor is an advisor and a guide to the students and thus provides updated, apt and valuable information to the students regarding the project work, classes, examinations, events, webinars & seminars that are taking place in the college. Since we have not been able to meet our students physically so we have made this mentoring groups in which they can post their queries regarding classes, fees, events, activities, examinations, etc.

All teachers see also see to it that no unnecessary chats, forwards are circulated in this group. It's a close knit association between the students and mentors but virtually. This initiative has been very useful as it provides prompt answers to the queries and confusions hovering in the minds of students.

PEHCHAAN – Citizenship Literacy

August 13, 2020

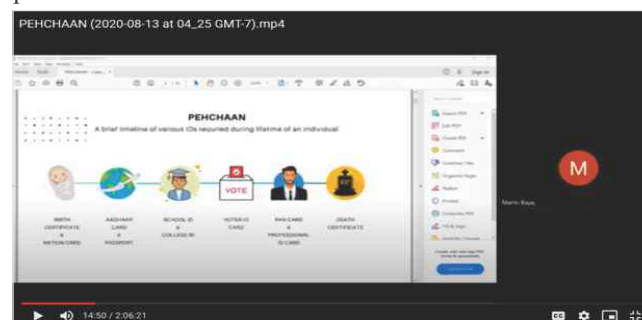

PEHCHAAN – Citizenship Literacy, organised by Miss. Divya P. Udeshi and Prof. Harshvardhan Sanghi. The webinar was hosted by the Commerce Lab on Google meet. The speakers CA Mohit Agarwal and CA Harshvardhan Sanghi faculty at the commerce morning section of the College conducted the webinar. Students from both commerce and science background equally showed interest in the webinar.

The speakers highlighted the importance and meaning of Aadhaar Card and further spoke about the security features incorporated in Aadhaar Cards, breaking down myths about Aadhaar Card, linking of different ID cards with Aadhaar. Things we cannot do without Aadhaar, and other key topics were touched in brief.

These transactions include tax payments, TDS/TCS credits, returns of income, specified transactions, correspondence, and so on. PAN, thus, acts as an identifier for the “person” with the tax department. Consequences of having more than one PAN number were discussed at length.

Business Development & Opportunities in the Pandemic

August 17, 2020

As the world prepares to emerge from the lockdown imposed to combat the COVID-19 pandemic, businesses are still struggling to recover from its after-effects. The lockdown led to a massive economic disruption with hundreds of businesses forced to shut shop, and the continued safety measures have made remote working and digital operations the new normal. As a result, businesses will now have to make a rapid transition from offline to online, which requires a completely new approach to business strategy.

In the post-pandemic world, services that relied heavily or entirely on customer mobility have been the worst-hit. Transportation services like Uber, fitness centers, and the tourism industry, for instance, have taken heavy losses and – in many cases – have permanently closed operations. Other businesses have been compelled to reduce their workforce, give up their physical office addresses and restrict client interactions to digital conversations.

A Webinar on “Business Development & Opportunities In The Pandemic” was organised by the Department of Commerce (Morning Section), The Bhawanipur Education Society College, in collaboration with IQAC,

The webinar was opened with welcome note by the organising secretary Prof. Sreyasi Ghosh. Prof. Minakshi Chaturvedi introduced the webinar and the areas of discussion. Mr. Bodhi Brata Das, Director, Phoenix Consulting said, “We learnt a great deal about, shift in consumer psychology and that we need to be better equipped to fight the pandemic!”

The session was interactive and was enriched by the presence of the speakers and the committee members. The webinar was followed by question-and-answer round by the members.

This informative webinar was conducted a second time in a row due to its huge demand by the students by Prof. Mohit Shaw to assist young minds who want to excel in their job interviews by creating a perfect resume. Around 150 students took active part in the webinar.

The mentor for the day Prof. Mohit Shaw (life coach, lecturer, entrepreneur) took over the webinar. His positivity, enthusiasm and in-depth knowledge led to a very interesting and interactive session. Prof Shaw then, presented a sample of a resume for a better understanding of the students.

After the presentation, participants were asked to drop in their doubts and queries. All answers were explained in detail and their doubts were cleared. The webinar was exceptionally impressive, and the response was overwhelming.

Learn how to crack Online Interviews!

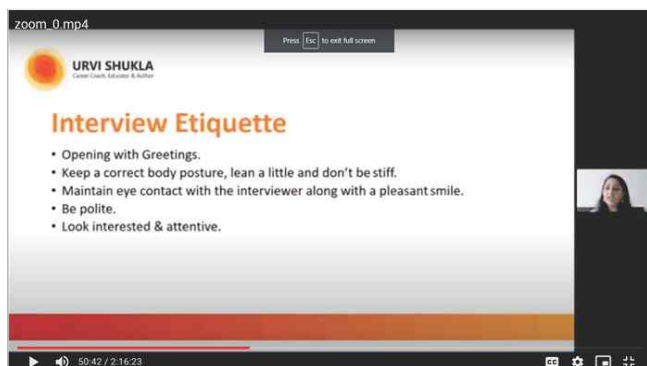

June 16, 2021

Acing an online job interview has always been a bit of an enigma for candidates. On one hand, it takes off the nerves from the equation that one has to deal with in a face-to-face interview, but on the other hand, it also puts limitations on the candidates to efficiently showcase the skills that would make them a valuable asset. Tips that can help you ace an online job interview, were conducted by our faculty, Prof. Urvi Shukla.

The motive of the webinar was to prepare students to crack Online interview by instilling confidence, having the right attitude, mental, physical, and technological preparation to be done prior to the interview. The webinar enlightened the students with varied nonverbal techniques that can impress an interviewer like keeping a pleasant smile, maintaining eye contact, showing interest by nodding your head, and being confident.

Overall, it was a very informative session which gave students an experiential learning about cracking an online interview.

B.Com (Afternoon & Evening)

The UG (Afternoon & Evening) and PG departments of commerce are both enterprising and dynamic sections of the college. Manned by committed erudite faculty members, these departments pay keen heed to students' needs and aspirations. The departments also have guest faculty members who bring in with themselves industry expertise to facilitate commercial and management know-how. Over the years, the departments have been excelling in providing conducive teaching-learning experience along with first rate counselling to make way for constructive orientation.

Faculty members strive unremittingly to make a student's experience enriching and most satiating not only by providing insightful perspectives to their prescribed curriculum but also by mentoring them- round the clock.

Unfortunately, in this Academic Year 2020-2021 all endeavours were brought to a startling halt as the pandemic befell mankind. Despite the limitations that this unprecedented pandemic brought in its wake, the college managed to ensure continuity of education by providing top notch technical support to teachers and students alike. With teachers uploading study materials on Google Classroom right from day one of the lockdown, a rift between students and education was never created. Soon online classes commenced on different platforms so prescribed modules could be taken forward.

Also, during the extended period of lockdown, faculty members of the UG (Afternoon & Evening) and PG, Department of Commerce, have been attending a number of webinars, workshops and faculty development programs to enhance proficiency. They have been prompt in adapting to the new normal and extending professional as well as emotional support to students in these trying times.

Following are the events and activities for the Academic Year 2020-2021:

DEPARTMENTAL WEBINARS

The Department of Commerce UG (Afternoon & Evening Section) and PG collaborated with the IQAC to present an array of webinars through 2020-21.

Each webinar addressed a contemporary topic. Apposite stalwarts from different walks of life graced the webinars with their august presence and deliberated on the issues at hand. With their expertise in domain knowledge and exceptional oratory skills they managed to captivate the audience. It was the sheer eloquence of their discourse that contributed to the success of each of the webinars.

The webinars ranged from college, state, national to international levels, bringing a whole new perspective to topics of the present-day. Each webinar was equally enriching and insightful. The penetrative interactive sessions only made the webinars richer and profoundly relevant.

Needless to say, each of the webinars was an astounding success, owing to the impeccable conduct, flawless technical support, engaging topics, relentless efforts of the organizing committees and above all the refined articulation of the keynoters.

The particulars of the webinars are enlisted hereunder:

DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY

Departmental events

Students' Webinar "Chem Voice'21" held on June 26, 2021:

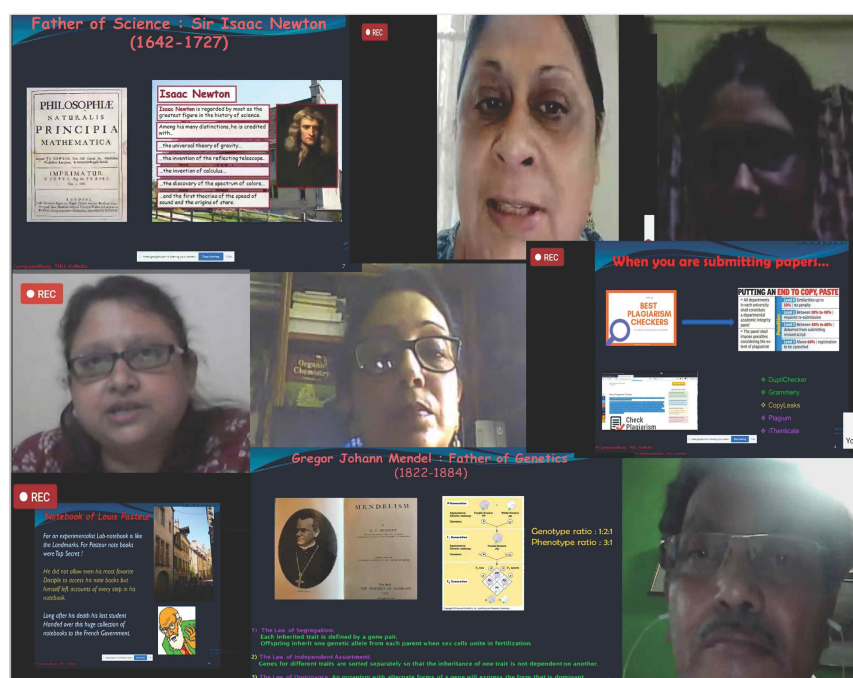

The Department of Chemistry in collaboration with IQAC, The Bhawanipur Education Society College organized a webinar entitled "ChemVoice'21" on June 26, 2021 from 2.30 pm in Google Meet platform. It was a Students' Webinar where twelve students of the Department of Chemistry participated and presented various topics based on their undergraduate syllabus and different topics based on current inventions related to Chemistry through powerpoint presentation. The duration of each presentation was for 8 minutes followed by a question answer session after each presentation.

Two distinguished Experts, namely Prof. Achintya Kumar Sarkar, Head, Department of Chemistry, Bidhannagar College, Kolkata and Dr. Samir Kanti Dutta, Vice-principal, Science, The Bhawanipur Education Society College, Kolkata were present to judge their presentation with their most valuable and relatable questions. After a long four hours interesting session of the students' presentation, two experts declared the scores of the participants. Ashiqua Zeb (SEM II Hons.), Sagnik Chakraborty (SEM-II Hons.), Debashree Ganguly (SEM-II Hons.), Ankit Kumar Gupta (SEM-IV Hons.) and Nishi Gandha (SEM-VI Hons.) were selected as the five best presenters amongst all. This webinar was coordinated by Dr. Suchandra Chakraborty and Dr. Sugata Samanta with the other members of the organizing committee was Dr. Samir K. Siddhanta, Dr. Pinki Saha Sardar, Dr. Saugata Konar, Dr. Yeasin Sikdar and Mr. Sourav Das. Feedback was received from the participants through online process followed by sending an E-certificate of participation to the participants. At last the event ended with a 'Rabindra Sangeet', sung by Sinchan Dasgupta, a student of SEM II (Hons.). This students' webinar was indeed very motivational and inspiring for the students with the shades of impact to their growing knowledge.

Scientists under Scanner: When they are stepping Against the Ethics of Science held on 01.08.2020

The Department of Chemistry of The Bhawanipur Education Society College took an initiative to organize an online talk on the Ethics of Science. Ethics is a very important aspect of our daily life as well as in the scientific world. According to Edwin Grant Conklin, "Ethics has been well called the religion of science." Scientific research has its own code of conduct which preserves the sanctity of this field. But these days scientific world is regularly shaken by the news of breaking the rules and stepping beyond the scientific ethics. Our distinguished speaker Dr. Rupali Gangopadhyay from the Department of Chemistry, Sister Nivedita University, Kolkata presented a very informative and interesting lecture to the participants on the topic. The total number of participants was near about 60. The lecture described the categorization of frauds in science. Dr. Gangopadhyay cited a good number of examples of daring frauds and analyzes the category they belong to. All such examples however do not present same type of misconduct and their causes and effects are also different. The filled up feedback forms of the webinar received from the participants, making the event successful and the organizers well satisfied that this webinar might be helpful to the students to enrich their idea of Scientific Ethics.

National Webinar on "Exploring New Facets of Organic Synthesis: From Metal to Metal-Free Catalysis" held on July 18, 2020

The Department of Chemistry of The Bhawanipur Education Society College organized a National Webinar on the topic "Exploring New Facets of Organic Synthesis: from Metal to Metal-Free Catalysis". This National webinar was held on July 18, 2020 from 11 AM to 12.30 PM and Google Meet platform was used for the webinar. In the inaugural session, welcome address was given by Dr. Samir Siddhanta, Associate Professor, Department of Chemistry, The BES College, Kolkata. He explained the current need of modern organic synthesis using a metal containing catalyst and metal free catalyst.

The technical session was covered by our resource person Dr. Chinmoy Kumar Hazra from Department of Chemistry, Indian Institute of Technology Delhi, India. The distinguished resource person enriched all with the four modern topics of interest. The first part of the webinar highlighted the catalytic generation of silicon based copper-(I) reagents from silicon pronucleophiles and the synthetic application of the methodologies and the synthesis of new materials. The second part of the talk was focused on the development of a mild and robust direct C-H functionalization strategy to the synthesis of axially chiral biaryls at ambient temperature with catalytic amount of $\text{Pd}(\text{OAc})_2$. The third part of the talk consisted of metal-free processes. In this part, a facile transformation of furans into silicon functionalized synthetic intermediates, by tris (pentafluorophenyl) borane-catalyzed cascade hydrosilylation processes under transition metal-free conditions were discussed. The last part of the talk was on COVID-19 related issues and the related inventions made by the various reputed institutions of India to fight against this particular disease.

After the technical session several questions/queries were received from the valued participants in the comment box of the Google meet and our speaker communicated those queries with proper explanations. The moderator of this question-answer session was Dr. Pinki Saha Sardar, one of the convenors of the webinar. At the end of the webinar Dr. Samir Kant Dutta, Vice-Principal (Science) delivered his viewpoint about the significance of the webinar. The students, Research Scholars and the faculties from various Premier Institutions of India participated in the webinar. The total number of active participants was 120. Valuable Feedback was received from the participants through online process followed by sending an E-certificate of participation to the participants. This National webinar completed with the enormous accomplishment from the students, Research Scholars and Faculty of various Institutions of all over India for strengthening their knowledge in the application area of the synthetic Chemistry.

Cultural Programmes organised by the department, In the Campus

- Celebration of Teachers' Day on 5th September 2020 was nicely organized online (via zoom platform) by the students of the Department.
- Semester-VI and semester-IV students of the department of Chemistry organised online farewell programme for the Part-III Honours and General students on 20th September, 2020 where the all teachers and support staff of the department were invited.

COMMITTEES

LIBRARY COMMITTEE

Owing to the pandemic situation entry to the college as well as the library has been restricted in this academic year July 2020 to June 2021. However, in January 2021 proposal for letting the students into the library was considered. Accordingly, a meeting of the library committee was convened on 7th January, 2021 with approximately 12 members of the library committee as well as the Teacher-In-Charge.

The committee felt that allowing more than 20 students into the library premises at one time would go against covid protocols. Hence, it was decided that students would be asked to mail about their book requirements. Subsequently they would be provided specific dates and times for collecting the same. In fact, library committee members took turns in monitoring the entry and departure of students from time to time.

Further, in May 2021 the library committee took the initiative of collecting internal question papers from all the departments and getting them uploaded in the college library website (in the institutional repository section).

INTERNAL QUALITY ASSURANCE CELL (IQAC)

The session 2020-21 has been an unprecedented period, which took every sector by surprise, bringing life to a standstill. It probably damaged individuals and institutions alike, in a way no one had ever foreseen. But the authorities, and the then Teacher-in charge initiated steps to guarantee no time was wasted and the interests of students were prioritized and teachers carried on with their academic work to the best of their ability. Physical attendance was both risky, unavailable and unadvisable in view of persistent government campaign discouraging people from venturing out unless absolutely essential. A lot of academic events like seminars, planned well in advance, had to be cancelled, postponed or converted to online modes as we gradually acclimatized ourselves to the new normal.

Disease and deaths notwithstanding, the departments rose to the needs of the hour, gearing up for exclusive webinars, which would be evident from the reports of the respective departments. Teachers switched over to new modes of teaching from home online, with amazing alacrity. Full length lectures were typed out and sent to the students, study materials were converted into the pdf format and duly uploaded in the Google Classrooms created for each section. Some teachers have even typed out almost 75000 words as written versions of full-length lectures. Furthermore, synchronous, live classes were held regularly, following special timetables, prepared for the period of home confinement. The Teacher-in-charge, Vice-Principals and Head of Departments held meetings from time to time, both online and in college, to address the problems faced by students and teachers alike and make necessary modifications and changes.

The college has provided with all kinds of technical, infrastructural support to teachers, if required, to facilitate uninterrupted holding of classes. This was the first time that the college organized a week long workshop for all teachers on "Flipped Classes" thus acquainting the teachers with revolutionary progress, made in online teaching methods. Just as teaching learning methods had to be overhauled in view of the pandemic, new methods of examining and evaluation were also introduced this year. In October 2020, the University of Calcutta held its first ever online final examinations for all the semesters as well as for old students, following the old pattern. There were new challenges, which after hours of hard work and meticulous cross verifications, could be met and overcome. We are happy that the institution has successfully fulfilled the expectations of the unforeseen calamity and is marching towards a better day.

KNOWLEDGE RESOURCE CENTRE

VISION STATEMENT

The Knowledge Resource Centre endeavors to be a national leader in helping educate students to become skilled, effective, responsible information users: that is, people who recognize when they need information, and know how to find, retrieve, evaluate, and use it effectively, efficiently, and ethically. The Library practices agility in being able to respond quickly and effectively to fast-paced change in our profession of librarianship and information science, our College, and our higher education arena. We take an entrepreneurial approach: we undertake the challenge of providing exemplary library and information resources and services in creative, sometimes unconventional ways within the innovative Champlain environment; organizing, operating, and assuming the risk for securing and deploying the needed resources. In support of the College's approach to higher education (a unique blend of technology leadership, market savvy innovation and fiscal responsibility with a commitment to "the human touch"), we secure and deploy the best available technology to support students and faculty in their information needs, we capitalize on the innovative design and purpose of the Information Commons, and we create, maintain, and make known the Information Commons as an intellectual center on campus -- a welcoming and supportive environment staffed by effective and caring professionals. This distinctive approach permeates both the physical and virtual Library, its resources, its staff, and its services, as we provide relevant, patron-centered support to students, faculty, staff and management.

LIBRARY ORIENTATION PROGRAMME

At the beginning of the academic year, this year also, a Virtual Library tour-cum-Orientation programme was prepared by the students under the guidance of Knowledge Resource Centre professionals. The students of M.A English, B.Sc Economics and B.Com students took a virtual tour of the library. Main purpose of this virtual tour is to make new students aware of services & facilities which they are going to get from the Knowledge Resource Centre.

Filmmaker Shoojit Sircar has clearly responded to that change, by releasing the Amitabh Bachchan-Ayushmann Khurrana starrer, Gulabo Sitabo, on Amazon Prime Video.

Sircar has been behind some thought-provoking films in the last decade, like Vicky Donor, Madras Café, Piku, and October. And in a time of social distancing, we met Sircar through Zoom, where he shares more about his work and the default creative retreat, he is now in, thanks to the pandemic with Sugato Guha, Co-Founder, Inner Circle Films at the Storyteller's Hour.

Doshi, Teacher In-Charge, Dr Suchandra Chakravarty and Director General, Dr Suman K Mukerjee and the program proceeded.

The struggle for freedom was not easy. Many Indians sacrificed their lives in the hope to set India free from the inhuman clutches of British Raj. One such group of young men were Binoy-Badal-Dinesh, who in 1930 attacked the Writers' Building as a revolt against Col. NS Simpsons. Simpsons was the Inspector General of prison who meted out brutal oppression to Indian prisoners. Students from the ENACT Collective paid a tribute to them with an overwhelming live performance. This was followed by a mesmerising musical tribute by CRESENDO Collective and a dance tribute by FLAMES Collective. The program concluded with a word of gratitude by Prof Dilip Shah. He proudly announced the formation of the EMERGENCY Group who have reached out to the elderly in such testing times and how the NSS Collective has been distributing food, sanitizers and masks to the needy.

Report on Data Analytics, Big Data Analytics and Social Media Analytics

October 10, 2020

We have often heard Data Analysts working with different types of data, but have you ever wondered how these data types differ and why the difference is so important, what do these Data Scientists or Analysts actually do and why it is said that India needs an influx of talent in the Big Data Industry? To ponder further on these questions, The Bhawanipur Education Society College organised a 3+ hour long workshop on “Data Analytics, Big Data Analytics and Social Media Analytics” in association with IBS ICFAI Business School on Saturday, October 10, 2020 from 4:30pm onwards. The workshop received an enrolment of 261 enthusiastic students.

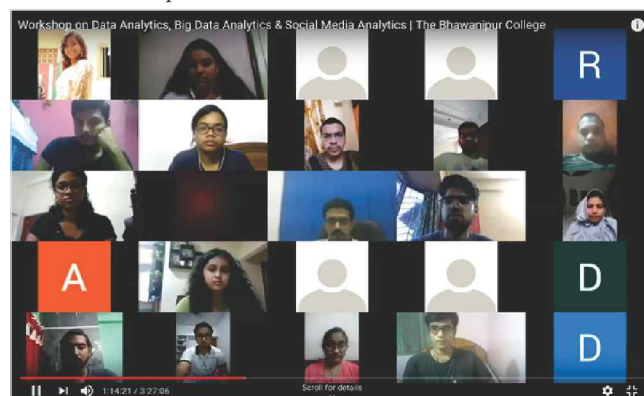

The floor was taken by Mr. Abhishek Kundu, Assistant General Manager, ICFAI Business School who introduced the speaker for the workshop Mr. Avisek Kundu, who at current is positioned as Manager (Lead Decision Scientist- Machine Learning, AI & Advance Analytics) at Ernst & Young, LLP.

Once the floor was taken by the speaker, Mr. Avisek Kundu, he at first explained his role and the major doubt that any student has which is “What exactly does a Data Scientist do?”. In very simple words he explained the various “hats” that a data scientist wears normally in the corporate sector which are Management and Tech Consultancy via which he advises his clients and helps them in deciding the strategies and methodologies of acquiring the digital data and usage of it aptly, Data Scientist via which he himself works on data and Data Story Teller via which he explains the clients how the data is beneficial and how it impacts the business houses.

Further he explained the aim in analysing all this data is to uncover patterns and connections that might otherwise be invisible, and that might provide valuable insights about the users who created it and through this insight, businesses may be able to gain an edge over their rivals and make superior business decisions. He further went on explaining the 5Vs of Big Data that are Volume, Velocity, Variety, Variability and Veracity.

Once the concept was cleared, the floor was open to a question-and-answer round before the speaker resumed presenting case studies and live projects.

To summarise it all, the workshop was extensive and highly enriching and knowledgeable where the participants not only learned the theoretical concepts but also learned the practical side to it which was the major aim of conducting the session. The workshop session ended with a quiz.

Project Pratidhwani – Audio Books for blind students

December 14, 2020

Kindness is the language which the blind can see”

True vision does not require eyes. There is no better way to thank God for your sight than by giving a helping hand to someone in the dark. India is home to the world's largest number of blind people. The Bhawanipur College, under the National Service Scheme (NSS) collective initiated 'PRATIDHWANI PROJECT', the efforts focused in preparing Audio Books and reaching the visually disabled students of Kolkata.

Every child looks forward to the leisure hour - When will he carry his bats outside, someone will get the ball, others will get wickets. When the ball is thrown, the child hits a Six! But, Oh No! He breaks the windowpane of a grumpy neighbour and how everyone scatters away with their belongings to escape the scolding. In times of IPL, as KKR rolls down Rajasthan's wicket, the lane echoes with HOWZZAT! Such stories prevail throughout the country. For us Indians,

"Cricket is not a game; it is a Religion". Beating the brutal hit of Covid-19 pandemic, The Bhawanipur conducted the most awaited seminar "ASPIRE PERSPIRE INSPIRE" where we invited the Indian Cricketing Legends, Mr. Arun Lal and Mr. Devang Gandhi to share words of wisdom with students who want to pursue their passion for sports. The event witnessed focused on Zoom and YouTube (Live). The event commenced with opening remarks by Prof. Dilip Shah who continued the conversation with the speakers throughout the event.

Hailing from Kolkata, both cricketers were reminiscent of the time they had spent in Northern Park which is the practice ground for BESC as well. The event was an exception in itself as it was a direct interaction between two celebrated sportsmen and the students of our college. Both, Devang Gandhi and Arun Lal spoke about their journey as a cricketer and gave an account of their struggles. The students asked them various questions which were answered by personal anecdotes and inspirational stories of their fellow teammates. Not only that, but they also shared a few tactics to be followed while playing a match. It was like a one-on-one guidance session to each student who felt elated after receiving advice from the two legends. Our hearts have been etched by the golden words said by Mr. Devang Gandhi and Mr. Arun Lal. The former said, "Do not get bogged down by failure. Work on your flaws and come back stronger." Whereas, the latter said, "Deficiency in talent can only be filled up by hard work". The event was put to an end by Prof Dilip Shah's closing remarks. He said that the speakers brought out the true essence of the webinar, that is, to "Aspire, perspire, inspire" which shall now transpire among the students.

ARCHITECTING THE FUTURE

The Bhawanipur Education Society College (BESC) has always been one of the most technologically advanced campuses. As an early adapter, it not only boasts of electronic classrooms and wi-fi connectivity but has been one of the earliest propagators of computer aided pedagogy. Naturally, when the pandemic induced lockdown forced academia to move into a digitised system of instruction, the BESC was at a huge advantage.

Technology and innovation were always going to be the key facilitators of success in future. Dream big, think big, experiment and be passionate in whatever you do. Challenge the norms, create new and make your identity. We all live in the age of instant results and quick fixes.

Therefore, instead of resting on its laurels, the BESC further finetuned its operations – the average duration of classes was reworked to realistically address the issue of attention spans and to factor in the time saved due to the electronic system of taking attendance. Faculty members were encouraged to create video summaries of their talks which were made available to students upfront and created Bhawanipur Open Online Curriculum with over 1000 video lectures, this has led to more student-faculty interactions and have been seen to be more conducive to the students getting a better grasp of the topics being discussed. As the recorded instructions are made freely accessible online, the students have been freed from not only the physical confines of their classrooms, but also of time constraints which is a great leveller, as individual students can now approach the course materials at the pace that best suits them, giving them a fair opportunity to work towards excellence. Consequently, success only comes with sheer hard work, dedication pushing oneself beyond one's capabilities, striving for excellence and making the best of opportunities. If you are passionate about something, then follow your passion and success will be yours.

We also believe that students should take this opportunity to Look out of the box – look outside the textbooks. Acquired skills embellish what they like, for the most satisfying is work that you like doing. Industry will increasingly seek performers who stand out, they will increasingly be required to bring that “extra something” to the table and the more capable you are, the more varied are your skill-sets, the better will be your prospects.

"Excellence is never an accident; it's always the result of high intention, sincere efforts, intelligent direction and skillful execution."

These words best describe the glorious state of the Bhawanipur which has set the benchmark among all the educational institutes in the city. It has evolved into the giant tree that constantly keeps on developing many branches or skills in a child's personality like creativity, critical thinking, problem-solving, decision making, strong will power along with personal and social responsibility that contribute to his/her development. The College constantly endeavours to always live up to the ideology 'Arise, awake and stop not till the goal is reached'.
